

The Town and Country Dance Club

The dance club had its beginnings in the early 1960's when a group of Sun Prairie women felt their husbands' needed more instruction in dancing and hired a couple from Stoughton to come to Sun Prairie and give weekly lessons. When the lesson series gave out the students were having so much fun they decided to form a club and continue the reunions but without the instructors in attendance. The names were alphabetized and the first six were in charge of finding a dance band, a location, and choosing the menu for the year's dinner dances. The next six couples were responsible for the succeeding year activities, and so it has continued.

There has never been a set of by-laws. The closest thing to an official is the member of the committee who accepts the money and pays the bills; this year it is Jane Roberts.

The 2007-2008 set up is
